SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

Writing and submitting the dissertation are among the final steps leading to the award of the Ed.D. degree. At Penn GSE, a student presents and defends the dissertation publicly. The final manuscript is submitted with the approval of the dissertation committee, Associate Dean, and Dean of the Graduate School of Education. The Graduate School of Education serves as the final clearinghouse for final deposit of all Ed.D. dissertations.

This Dissertation Manual can be used in conjunction with the Dissertation Template. The Dissertation Template is a word document formatted with the approved margins, pagination, fonts, etc. All Ed.D. dissertations must be submitted online through ProQuest ETD Administrator.

Questions? Please contact gse-oss@gse.upenn.edu.

OPEN ACCESS PUBLICATION

Publication of the dissertation is a university requirement for Ed.D. and Ph.D. degrees. A digital copy is included in the ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global (PQDT Global), accessible online to subscribing libraries.

As of December 2015, Penn will require open access publication of dissertations. Open access provides a much wider audience for you, can help to market your ideas to potential employers, and can help make plagiarism or theft much easier to detect. The open access dissertation, published in the University’s institutional repository, ScholarlyCommons, will be available via the internet, including full text searching through search engines like Google. The same legal and copyright protections pertain to open access publication as to traditional hardcopy publication. The University permits delay of traditional and open access publication if necessary.

DELAY OF PUBLICATION

In cases where papers are in press, patents are pending, or where there are other intellectual property concerns, it may be beneficial for you to delay publication (commonly referred to as an “embargo”). Students should discuss with their advisor whether a delay in publication is necessary or advisable.

Beginning with the December 2015 degree cycle, students may apply for a delay in publication by ProQuest and in ScholarlyCommons as follows:

- Enter embargo preferences, if any, when submitting your dissertation using ProQuest ETD. A three-year embargo will be your only option. This aligns with ScholarlyCommons which is Penn’s site for open access publication.
- A request for a three-year delay in open access publication through Penn’s ScholarlyCommons will be granted automatically. No forms or permissions required.
- A request for an additional three-year delay in ScholarlyCommons requires approval by the Graduate Group Chair. See form on the next page.
- If a further delay is needed, a graduate may petition their school’s Graduate Dean or Associate Dean for Graduate Studies for an extension.
- If you decide to lift the embargo before the three-year period, please reach out to ProQuest at disspub@proquest.com

Documentation of approvals for extension of an embargo must be submitted one month in advance to the Graduate Division, gse-oss@gse.upenn.edu.
Complete and submit the form below to request an extension of embargo. To release a work early from embargo, send email to gse-oss@gse.upenn.edu

To avoid release of the work in Scholarly Commons, approvals must be received one month in advance by the Graduate Division.

Authors contact ProQuest directly for embargo extensions in ProQuest @ disspub@proquest.com.

USE OF COPYWRITED, PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED, OR COAUTHORED MATERIAL

Previously published articles may be submitted as part of the dissertation with written permission of the copyright holder (such as the journal or publisher) and approval of the dissertation committee and Graduate Group Chairperson.

If you use copyrighted material (images, quotations, datasets), you are responsible for ensuring permission for re-use of that material. In most cases, you can use copyrighted material under the “fair use” provisions of copyright law. If you still have questions regarding copyright and “fair use” send email to: repository@pobox.upenn.edu

University of Pennsylvania policy permits dissertations based on joint work with other researchers provided that, in such cases, a unique and separate dissertation is presented by each degree candidate. The candidate must include a concise account of his or her contribution to the whole work. Authorship of a dissertation by more than one degree candidate is not allowed.

PATENT AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Any inventions that you make as part of your research for your degree and disclosed as part of your dissertation, and any patent or other intellectual property rights arising there from, are governed by the policies of the University of Pennsylvania, including the Patent and Tangible Research Property Policies and Procedures and Policy Relating to Copyrights and Commitment of Effort for Faculty.

For more information, please contact the University’s Center for Technology Transfer at CTTinfo@ctt.upenn.edu or by calling the CTT Help Desk at 215-898-9591.

Please note that independent of embargoes in ProQuest and/or ScholarlyCommons, once the dissertation has been deposited, a print copy will be bound and shelved immediately in the University Library. This constitutes publication and makes the dissertation publicly available in the Library and through Interlibrary Loan. This may impact the timing and deadlines to file patent applications and/or your ability to obtain a patent.

There are strict deadlines under U.S. and international law regarding the timing for filing patent applications and the public availability of your dissertation. Contact the Penn Center for Innovation to discuss whether there might be a patentable invention disclosed in your dissertation prior to deposit of your dissertation.

SECTION 2: ED.D. DISSERTATION FORMATTING

ED.D DISSERTATION TEMPLATE

A Word template is available to help you format the dissertation correctly. It paginates according to University requirements and can be used to generate the Table of Contents, format the margins, etc. Choose the one appropriate to your dissertation (e.g., with or without notice of copyright). When using the Dissertation Template, all italicized notes must be deleted and the highlighted text must be personalized. Be sure to remove the grey shading used in the template to indicate fields where information must be entered. The Dissertation Template is available below. If you choose to create your own document, rather than use the Dissertation Template, be sure to follow the guidelines below very carefully.

ORGANIZATION OF THE MANUSCRIPT

Preliminary Pages, in the following order:
Title Page
Copyright Notice (optional)
Dedication (optional)
Acknowledgment (optional)
Abstract
Table of Contents
List of Tables (If lengthy, it may be included as an appendix.)
List of Illustrations (If lengthy, it may be included as an appendix.)
Preface (optional)

Main Text

Appendices (optional)

Bibliography

Index (optional)

MARGINS

Margins: Left-hand margin: 1 inch
Right-hand margin: 1 inch
Top and bottom margins: 1 inch

All margins are 1”. All text, including footnotes and page numbers, must be inside these boundaries. Nothing may appear in the margin area.

LINE SPACING

The text of the dissertation must be double-spaced (except for footnotes, long quoted passages, and lists of tables and figures, which are single-spaced).

FONT

Any non-italic font 10-12 points in size should be used. Headings may be larger. For enhanced screen readability, use Arial (10pt), Courier New (10pt), Georgia (11pt), Times New Roman (12pt), or Verdana (10pt) font. For footnotes, figures, citations, charts, and graphs, a font of 8 points or larger should be used. Italic type may be used for quotations, words in a foreign language, occasional emphasis, or book titles.
BOLD, UNDERLINING, PARAGRAPH INDENTATION, BLANK PAGES

Spare use of these formatting features is permitted, to enhance the readability of the manuscript. Blank pages are not permitted.

PAGINATION

Every page in the dissertation has a number, except for the Title Page and the copyright notice (if desired).

For the preliminary pages — dedication (optional), acknowledgements (optional), abstract, table of contents, list of tables, graphs, illustrations, and preface (optional) — use small Roman numerals (i, ii, iii, iv, v, ...). These may be placed either at the top or the bottom of the page. The title page is counted as page i, and the copyright page (if there is one) as page ii, but do not print the page numbers on either of these two pages (e.g., in a dissertation with a copyright notice, the first numbered page is iii; in a dissertation without a copyright notice, the first numbered page is ii).

For the text, use Arabic numbers (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, ...) starting with page 1 (the first page of the text itself). These may be placed either at the top or the bottom of the page. If you use footnotes, it is recommended that you print page numbers at the page top. Do not print page numbers, footnotes, or anything else in the margins. Each page must be consecutively numbered, including tables, graphs, illustrations, and bibliography/index (if they are included); letter suffixes (such as 10a, 10b) are not allowed.

The Title Page must contain the TITLE (in upper case); the author’s name; the graduate group name (please see below for official names); the year the degree is being granted; the name, faculty title (rank and department), and signature (original or electronic) of the dissertation supervisor; and the signature of the Dean. The names and faculty titles (rank and department) of the Dissertation Committee members should be listed on the Title Page (their signatures are not required). If you want to use a format for your name that differs from the current name in the Penn In Touch System (e.g., a married name, or a full middle name rather than a middle initial), contact the Registrar’s Office and provide the necessary documentation to make that change.

The Dissertation Supervisor is the person primarily responsible for overseeing the student’s dissertation research.

The title page is understood to be page “i” for counting purposes, but no page number should be printed on the title page. See DISSERTATION TEMPLATE for details.

OFFICIAL NAMES OF GRADUATE GROUPS

Higher Education
Higher Education Management
Reading/Writing/Literacy
Educational Leadership
Teaching, Learning, and Teacher Education
Penn Chief Learning Officer
Educational and Organizational Leadership
COPYRIGHT NOTICE

The dissertation submitted as a part of the requirements for a degree is the property of the University. However, the author of the dissertation owns and retains the copyright in the dissertation, without further registration formalities (see page 19 for more discussion of copyright options). If you choose to include a copyright notice in your manuscript, place it on a separate page immediately following the Title Page. Display the “TITLE” of the dissertation and the word "COPYRIGHT" in UPPERCASE, (or symbol ©), the year of first publication, and your name in sentence case. The author may also reference a Creative Commons License Deed on this page. Do not print a page number on this page; it is understood to be page "ii" for counting purposes.

ABSTRACT

The Abstract is a condensed summary of the dissertation. The abstract, which is normally a single paragraph, consists of four parts: the statement of the problem; the procedure and methods used to investigate the problem; the results of the investigation; and the conclusions.

The abstract is published online by ProQuest in “ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global (PQDT Global) database” providing information to interested readers about the general content of the dissertation.

The abstract is double-spaced. Below the word “ABSTRACT” (in upper case), list the title of the dissertation (upper case), your name, and your dissertation supervisor's name. If you have both a supervisor and co-supervisor, list the co-supervisor's name on the line beneath the supervisors. Do not include any titles (e.g., “Supervisor” or “Advisor”), as this is indicated by the placement of the names.

FOOTNOTES / ENDNOTES

BIBLIOGRAPHY

This is an alphabetical listing of all references. It may be a single alphabetical list by chapters, or an alphabetical list by authors for subject and class of publications. Page numbers in the bibliography continue the pagination of the text; do not number the bibliography separately.

SUPPLEMENTARY DIGITAL FILES

Supplementary digital files of essential supporting material may be submitted along with the dissertation manuscript. Follow the instructions in ETD Administrator for attaching supplementary files.
COPYRIGHT PERMISSION LETTER

If someone other than you own the copyright in content in your manuscript, including appendices, and your use of that content is not a fair use of that content, ProQuest requires submission of a permission letter from the copyright holder to use that content. Submit the Permission Letter as a Supplemental File in Administrator. Name the file “Permission Letter - Do Not Publish.”

SECTION 3: DISSERTATION SUBMISSION PROCESS

The Graduate School of Education is the administrative clearinghouse for EdD graduates. You must submit your dissertation online using ProQuest ETD Administrator. Once your dissertation has been reviewed and accepted on ProQuest, you will be asked to obtain the signature on your Title Page of the Dissertation Chair. GSE will then secure the Dean’s signature on the Title Page on behalf of the student.

ORDERING A TRANSCRIPT & GETTING YOUR DIPLOMA

POLICY ON AMENDING THESIS/DISSERTATION AFTER FINAL SUBMISSION

Once approved by the thesis/dissertation committee and published in the University’s ScholarlyCommons, all thesis/dissertation content becomes part of the formal record. Only in rare situations in which there is a significant chance of harm (to readers following the dissertation’s recommendations and/or to research informants/participants) will requests to amend the scholarly content of the submitted thesis/dissertation be considered. Students and committees should follow all IRB guidance and review thesis/dissertation content carefully before submission to avoid this scenario whenever possible.

Any request to amend the dissertation must be approved by the thesis/dissertation advisor (if still on the Penn faculty) and Graduate Group Chair. Once approved, the request should be submitted by the Graduate Group Chair, along with a rationale for consideration, to the Deputy Provost for final approval.

Two types of amendments to the scholarly content of the thesis/dissertation will be considered: (1) the removal or modification of classified, proprietary, or confidential information, or (2) the addition of an errata sheet to note and correct significant errors in content. If the purpose is to remove or modify classified, proprietary or confidential information, the author should fill out the page substitution request form. If the purpose is to note and correct significant errors in content, the author should create an errata sheet using the errata sheet form and instructions.
Research master's and PhD alumni may petition to change their name on their thesis/dissertation. Such requests will only be considered in the case of a legal name change and are intended to support alumni whose gender identity and/or cultural or religious affiliation has changed. Alumni wishing to make changes to the name on their thesis/dissertation must first update their data with the Office of the University Registrar before filling out the thesis/dissertation name change request.
